THE THEME

Fear of the other is pervasive today, but it's not new. The early Christians confronted it in preaching the Gospel and often paid a heavy price for their message. As hard as it may be to accept, God's love is not limited to us and those with whom we feel comfortable. We, too, are called to reach out beyond borders and barriers of our own making. Why is this so hard for us to grasp, even now?

THE READINGS

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES 13:14, 43-52: The cost of preaching the Gospel to the Gentiles.

REVELATION 7:9, 14b-17: A universal vision of Jesus' followers.

JOHN 10:27-30: Those who follow Jesus will have eternal life.

From Fr. Peter's Desk
Fourth Sunday of Easter

Dear Parish Family:

In our First Reading from the Acts of the Apostles, we hear that Paul and Barnabas receive great hospitality in Antioch, but after a brief time they encounter opposition. Paul found in this hostility a call to preach the Gospel among the Gentiles, the non-Jewish Greeks of the eastern Mediterranean area.

Our Second Reading from the Book of Revelation, written several decades after Paul's death, illustrates the way the Church's composition had changed during that time: a numberless crowd from every part of the human family now shares God's life in Christ.

This Sunday's brief Gospel reading emphasizes the unity among God, Jesus, and the disciples who continue His mission. God continues to work through Christ's disciples for the salvation of humanity, to ensure that all might not perish, but have eternal life.

My brothers and sisters in Christ, like the early Christians described in Acts, we are inheritors of the gifts that flow from the resurrection: faith in God and the promise of eternal life and salvation the gifts that flow from the resurrection: faith in God and the promise of eternal life and salvation given to God's children through Christ. Regardless of rejection from the world, we believe in the promise!

God Bless You Always,
Fr. Peter

Stewardship Reflection

Listen to God's voice. When you pray, be still and quiet and listen to Him.

Living Stewardship

This Mother's Day, be sure to pray for the mothers in your life. Pray for pregnant mothers (especially those considering abortion-that they may be comforted by God and decide against it). Pray for mothers in need and mothers in war torn areas.

About

Suffolk County Police will discuss how to respond appropriately to concerning statements about schools posted on social media, along with the potential consequences of making such posts. The session will also address what steps to take if you or your child sees or receives these types of comments online. An overview of the Suffolk County Police Department's investigation procedures will be provided.

Planning and practice keep schools safe. Schools are safe. It is important not to live in fear. We will talk about the difference between lockout and lockdown. It is easy to get the words mixed up especially in the height of a situation. The evening will end with information about the Suffolk County Police response and our roles in schools.

No registration required
- all are welcome.
